In this article, we will show you the commands to create a graphic design. We assume that you already know Photoshop. We are also assuming that the computer has a working internet connection. In our computer we will place the sample image. The size of the image is 1130 × 880 pixels. We will start by creating the file in Photoshop, create a graphic design and then export the image to a PNG format. 1. Open Photoshop and create an 1130 × 880 pixels file (PNG) on the desktop. 2. To create a graphic design, select the icon of the camera, go to File > New and then select Graphic Design. 3. Alternatively, you can create the file using the New > Graphic Design option. Now you will see three panels on your screen. In the first panel, Select a background. If you select it, then click on the small arrow below the background image and select Choose Image (Camera Raw). The file is saved on the desktop in the location: Downloads\Camera raw filters (or your camera RAW settings). Now we will choose a color for our background. You can click on the Color palette to access it, and then click on the color, which is Color > Fill. 4. Now we must check the Don't save project. You can do so by clicking on the bottom option – Dont save project. Click OK. 5. Now you will have the option to load a pattern. Click on the pattern button below the grid you see. 6. In the next window, you will be able to choose a pattern, position it, and add new patterns. To select a pattern, click on the card first. You can click on the pattern and select the color you want, click the position arrow to position it, and click on the size arrow. 7. When you click OK, you will have a grid of patterns of increasing size. Each color in the pattern is a different color. Click the color you want. Now you can change the size. Click the arrow, select the size and type in an appropriate value. By default, the number of lines is set to 10. Set this value to the number of lines you want. Now select Save. 8. Now we will select a color for the first brush. In the Fill color window, click on the color, and then click OK. In the next a681f4349e

Q: Returning a double from a subroutine in Java to main I'm a newbie to Java, but I was given a project with a main and one of the methods requires that main calls a subroutine with a double, but all the parameters are taken from main and after executing the subroutine, I want to return the double. I think I'm probably going about this the wrong way. Maybe my whole concept of what this project is is wrong? Any pointers would be appreciated. Below is the code: import java.util.Scanner; public class Weight { public static void main(String[] args) { //Variables for user Input double BodyWeight, Height, Carbs, Protein, Fat; //Scanner for Input Scanner input = new Scanner(System.in); //Prompt User to enter values for BodyWeight, Height, Carbs, Protein and Fat System.out.print("Enter your BodyWeight : "); BodyWeight = input.nextDouble(); System.out.print("Enter your Height : "); Height = input.nextDouble(); System.out.print("Enter your Carbs : "); Carbs = input.nextDouble(); System.out.print("Enter your Protein : "); Protein = input.nextDouble(); System.out.print("Enter your Fat : "); Fat = input.nextDouble(); double WeightCalculation = BodyWeight *.7 + Carbs *.3 + Protein *.2 + Fat *.5; //Convert double to int int Weight = (int) WeightCalculation; double bw = WeightCalculation; System.out.
