Effect of high diastolic blood pressure on progression of diabetic nephropathy in patients with type 2 diabetes mellitus. Diabetic nephropathy is the leading cause of renal failure in developed countries. A number of studies suggest that a prolonged elevation of blood pressure might be harmful to the kidney. The aim of this study was to evaluate the effect of high diastolic blood pressure on progression of diabetic nephropathy in patients with type 2 diabetes mellitus. A total of 188 patients with type 2 diabetes mellitus and nephropathy were included in the study. Primary end-points were 1-year blood pressure and renal survival. Secondary end-points were the progression of retinopathy, proteinuria, and estimated glomerular filtration rate (eGFR). Of the 188 patients who were included in the study (104 men and 84 women), 75 (40.32%) had systolic blood pressure above 130 mm Hg, 51 (27.17%) had diastolic blood pressure above 80 mm Hg and 112 (58.59%) had both systolic and diastolic blood pressure above 130 mm Hg. Of the 188 patients, 15 (8.05%) died and 5 (2.68%) reached end-stage renal disease. The patients who died were older (57.3 ± 9.2 vs. 50.2 ± 8.8, $P = 0.001$) and had more advanced nephropathy than patients who reached end-stage renal disease (6.33 ± 3.9 vs. 3.17 ± 3.3, P 130 mm Hg was related to the development of ESRD ($P = 0.01$). The hazard ratio of dying or reaching end-stage renal disease was 4.9 when systolic blood pressure was >130 mm Hg ($P = 0.011$), 2.9 when diastolic blood pressure was >80 mm Hg ($P = 0.027$), and 0.4 when systolic and diastolic blood pressure were both >130 mm Hg ($P = 0.043$). However, there was no correlation between the other secondary end-points and systolic or diast

Q: EventHandler inside class doesn't execute I have a problem with my event handlers. In my viewModel, I subscribe to the event with this code: public ICommand SomeCommand { get; } public string EventName { get; } public PostEventHandler(string eventName, Action action) { EventName = eventName; SomeCommand = new DelegateCommand(action); } and inside a button: this.ViewModel.SomeCommand.Execute(context.PostLog.GetId()); It works fine, the command executes properly. The problem is that I want to have a couple of those handlers, but when I add a handler, my viewModel receives an error, stating something like "Creating event 'Event Name' in controller 'Event Name' has not been declared". I have no idea how to overcome this problem, any help would be appreciated. Edit, additional info: Both handlers are created inside the same class. I'm in a Unity viewmodel, I can access both eventHandlers, the way I mentioned in the code snippet. I can also invoke the command from one of the eventHandlers, but I cant from the other one. A: It does not make sense to have an eventhandler and a command in the same class. If you want to use a command, your viewmodel has to derive from ICommand. Here is a view model sample that shows both the eventhandler and the command. public interface ICommand { ICommand Execute(); } public class SomeEventHandler : EventHandler, ICommand { public SomeEventHandler() { SomeCommand = new DelegateCommand(Execute); SomeCommand.NotifyOnExecuteCanExecuteChanged = false; } public ICommand SomeCommand { get; } public bool CanExecute() { return true; } public void Execute() { throw new NotImplemented
