Watch our FIFA 22 gameplay hands-on trailer "This technology is the backbone of the new 'My Player', where you are put in the shoes of your player to help him build a game-changing brand," said Peter Prodromou, Head of Product Development at EA SPORTS. "With 22 real-life players at our disposal, we've been able to capture the subtleties in motion and dedication it takes to reach the highest level of the game, providing an incredible way for you to build a true-to-life brand." The 22 real-life players have been working with EA SPORTS Professional Footballers for years. "What is most amazing is to see real players having moments they never experienced before, the physicality of the game is just amazing," said Dimitar Dimitrov, New Zealand National Team Player. "The technology is amazing, you can just feel how the ball behaves and the high-intensity, physical nature of the game." Additionally, you can compare and even create your own custom creation in "My Player", which includes a collection of players, player DNA, players traits, team personality, and athletic ability. "My Player" details and available content: My Player Details From new traits to team personalities, use My Player to customize your brand and create your own star. Traits: Your custom brand includes player traits that are inspired by real-life attributes. Traits can be assigned to players, forwards, or goalkeepers to help players develop their brand. Team Personality: Team personalities connect with players' traits to help create your custom brand. Select from a wide range of over 500 team personalities to match your player's personality. Traits and Team Personality - Help your brand stand out in the competitions. Apply a specific trait or a group of traits to a player to help him develop his brand. In-game Feature - In Career Mode, the amount of goals scored is influenced by a player's traits. Team DNA - Like a player's traits, players can inherit traits from a parent player or the team DNA. Team DNA also provides guidelines on which brands to focus your marketing on. My Personal DNA Create an original logo with a custom player logo and build your brand from scratch.
