The company has raised $20K of the $1M needed in the first three weeks, and is hiring for engineers and customers. Founded by IIT-Bombay grads Nutan and Sanjay, the company was incubated at TCS Labs. It offers an API to connect startups and freelancers using their expertise. So for example, a startup may be looking for a mobile developer, and MesaBot will connect the startup with freelancers who specialize in mobile development. It is one of the few companies to offer a solution for the increasing prevalence of remote work that isn't a mobile app. When the team decided to raise money, they asked me what I thought was the one missing piece of their puzzle: a fundraising platform. I said to them that the need to raise capital exists, but would be quickly filled. I asked them if what they were doing was unique enough to warrant a series A, and whether it mattered where the money came from.

Q: Let a and b be real number. Prove that there exists real number c such that $a+b=2^c$. Let a and b be real number. Prove that there exists real number c such that $a+b=2^c$. This is what I have:

Let $c = \log_2(a) + \log_2(b)$ Proof:

$$2^c = 2^{\log_2(a) + \log_2(b)} = 2^{\log_2(a)} 2^{\log_2(b)}$$

$= 2^{\log_2(a) + \log_2(b)}$ $= (a+b)$ Is my proof valid? A: If $b > a$, then using Euler's Proof by Induction,
$$\begin{aligned} a+b &= 2^c \\ a &= 2^{c-b} \\ 2^{c+1} &= (2^c)^2 - 2^c + 2^c \\ 2^{c+1} - (2^c)^2 &= 2^c \\ (2^{c-1})(2^{c+1}) &= 2^c \end{aligned}$$
