The simulation engine in FIFA 22 has been expanded to incorporate the fast-paced, tactical, play that gives real-life football its unique character. On and off the pitch, the free kicks, passes, dribbles, tackles and 'tiki-taka' in FIFA 22 are more unpredictable, more reactive, and more intense. The audiovisual enhancements have been expanded to accurately represent the real game in every way, including the atmosphere on and off the pitch, with the iconic crowds and stadium noises faithfully recreated. In addition, the natural flow of the pitches and player animations have been improved, while the new Player Path is designed to make the players' runs and runs more realistic, and the redesigned tackling animation further increases the intensity of the tackling and the challenge of realistic gameplay. Moreover, the Player Select screen has been completely overhauled and is now equipped with 15 new context-based controls, such as the ability to reveal or hide goalkeepers and to personalise the Control Methods, whilst the Disciplinary System has been upgraded to include over 100 new cards with more detailed rules, including cards that govern off-the-ball behaviour, fouls and red cards. The referees in FIFA 22 have also been awarded new animations to represent the different types of cards that they can award. FIFA 22 is a faithful recreation of a high-intensity football match played in high definition, and delivers the same exhilarating football gameplay that fans of the real-life game enjoy. But beyond the box, FIFA 22 goes even further by harnessing new and innovative technology from the gaming industry, such as 'HyperMotion Technology' which enables players to analyse their real-life movements in unprecedented detail. When combined with the new and improved Player Path animation, Player Trajectory and Player Traits, gameplay can be made even more intense and unpredictable, with more subtle elements that inspire real football flair. Features: Over 450 player animations for all 32 teams, including a new animation for the goalkeeper New contextual Controls for 15 new Player Options, including Ball Position, Goalkeeper Mask, Defensive Line, Penalty Marker and Referee, as well as the new tactical controls for Defensive Tackles, Offside and Free-Kicks New, context-based Inspections that allow you to measure players' physical attributes such as height, width, speed, acceleration and more, as well as skill attributes such as Agility and First Touch

Q: Searchbox in WPF with RichTextBox I want to create an application that's build with WPF and use RichTextBoxes as containers of content that should be editable on the fly. However i want to include a simple search box on the right-side of the richtextboxes. I already tried to create a solution based on the searchbox provided in windows-explorer that looks something like this:
